Dear Dr. M. P. Singh

This is to certify that Dr.(Mrs.)Manisha Parag Joshi working as an Associate Professor at Priyadarshini College of Engineering, Nagpur has successfully completed her Research Project entitled "Iron-based perovskite-type catalysts from rust: a co-operation between Italy and India" granted in the framework of the program "PROGRAMMA DI RICERCA STM 2016". She had worked from 14th November 2016 to 25th November 2016 at Istituto per lo Studio dei Materiali Nanostrutturati - "Consiglio Nazionale delle Ricerche (ISMN-CNR), Palermo, Italy. During her visit to ISMN-CNR she worked in collaboration with Dr. Francesca Deganello and she had access to all research laboratories and facilities deemed necessary to carry out her research project. I consider her visit an excellent opportunity to strength the on-going research collaboration between our two Institutes. She was extremely hard working and dedicated towards her work. I wish her all the success in her future endeavors.

Re: Collaboration in the development of Human Powered Tools for Income Generation

Dear Sir,

It was a pleasure meeting with Prof Jayant Modak and his colleagues in Nagpur on the 15th. Your team's initiatives in the design and development of human powered equipment are indeed laudable and must necessarily be sustained!

We at the Human Scale Technologies Lab (HSTL), a section 25 company, supported by Synterprise, Mumbai and New Work New Culture, Ann Arbor, Michigan, develop and support such initiatives based on 'pedal power'.

The principal goals of HSTL include that:

- Collation of pedal powered tools and machines in India and the world over
- Application, adaptation and customisation of pedal powered tools for income generation, particularly for self-provision
- Web-based facilitation for the aggregation, interaction and dissemination of pedal powered technology vis-à-vis stakeholders

In this connection and as discussed we would like to enter in to a collaborative arrangement with your institution to undertake on behalf of HSTL pre-identified projects and studies by your faculty and/or students. Under the aegis of New Work New Culture and HSTL you will have the opportunity to interact with like institutions in the US, Germany, Austria and South Africa.

To ensure milestone achievement, we recommend focus on:

- Concepts
- Completion/variation of existing projects/studies
- New Projects

Dean (R&D)
Do the needful.

To start with, we must target to identify within a month, at least 3 projects for this calendar year. Based on the estimate provided by your team, the budget for each project is Rs 40,000.00. Needless to say that the endeavour shall be to focus on frugal engineering to enable us maximise results from the budget. It would be ideal if we could do a 4th project in the same budget!

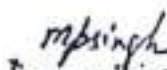

Based on your acceptance of this offer of collaboration, we enclose herewith a demand draft of Rs 1,20,000.00 to meet the said project costs.

We look forward to this collaborative initiative and to playing a useful role in catalysing human powered income-generating tools in the community!

With best wishes

For Human Scale Technologies Lab

Dear Dr. D.D. Shah,

Sub-Project Pre-Proposal :- "Generation of design data for nursery fertilizer mixer energized by human powered fly wheel motor"

Ref:- Your letter No.PCE/2006-07/0337/ dated.11-07-2007.

Please refer to your above Project Pre-Proposals, submitted to the Rajiv Gandhi Science and Technology Commission, for which we thank you.

The Committee of Peers of the Commission, in its recent meeting considered the pre-proposals, related to your pre-proposal from other institute also(a list is enclosed) and opined that the concept presented therein require networking of both the institutions for product development. Such a multi-institutional project could be co-ordinated at one institution. It would be not only mutually complementary in terms of expert inputs but would have better focus and would generate useful database for the entire State. The investigators may please interact and suggest a possible work plan for such a networked project. With this input, we would be in a position to pursue this major initiative.

I am enclosing herewith the booklet on the Scheme "Assistance for S&T Applications".

With regards,

Yours sincerely,

(Nisha Meshram)
